Foreword

We want this book to be, not something that will be judged for its literary value or composition, but rather, a souvenir that will be treasured because it brings back happy memories of one year spent at Grand Haven High—and such we have tried to make it.

Appreciation

The Class of '29 desires herein to make known its deep appreciation to Miss Lois Brashears for the provident way in which she counseled, supported, and led the Blue and Gold
staff.

Dedication

To Miss Sandrene Schutt
—the one who, in our estimation, has put forth the greatest effort to make us as a class, successful—do we respectfully dedicate
our most lasting achievement: the 1929 "BLUE AND GOLD."

In Memoriam

GENEVIEVE FISHER

*"The journey is done and the summit attained,
And the barriers fall,
Though a battle's to fight 'ere the guerdon be gained.
The reward of it all."*

BROWNING.

E. H. BABCOCK

Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors:

Are you making the most of your opportunity? Will you be better able to serve humanity; will you be a better citizen; will your attitude toward life be richer because of your having attended Grand Haven High School? If you can answer these questions in the affirmative, then your high school experiences thus far must have been successful.

E. H. BABCOCK.

To the Class of 1929:

My Dear Friends:

As you leave your school I extend to you my best wishes for a successful future.

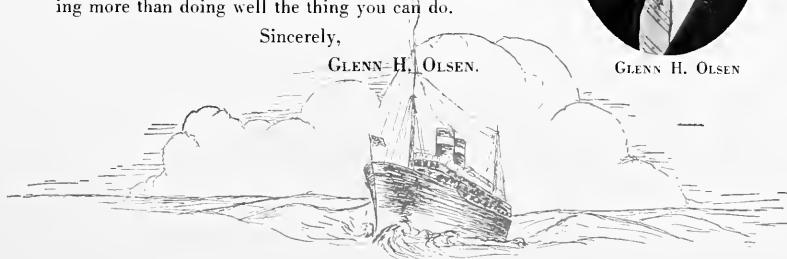

The question, "How shall I get on in the world?" is being asked by each one of you. There is but one answer; that is, "To be occupied in the highest employment of which you are capable." Success is nothing more than doing well the thing you can do.

Sincerely,

GLENN H. OLSEN.

In 1925 we embarked in the good ship Grand Haven High School, setting out on a four year voyage. After we became acquainted with our surroundings, we rapidly took our part in school life. We chose as our patroness Miss Lucille Vander Werf, and as president, Dwight Large. The first part of the cruise we encountered rough waters, but with excellent leadership we soon had fair sailing.

The second year of our voyage we elected Mr. C. C. Cook as patron, and Walter Fisher as president. We began our participation in school life by giving the Freshmen a party in the gym.

We were represented on the varsity football team by John Elliott.

By the time we began the third part of our voyage, we were accustomed to sailing and most of our difficulties were over. We presented an amusing and entertaining comedy, "The Patsy," directed by Miss Schutt, our patroness, with Miss Quigley assisting.

Our able president for the third period of our cruise was John Elliott, who, along with Rudolph Hodal, represented us on the first football team, while six others did their bit on the scrub squad. Van Schelven, Elliott, Strahsburg, Byl, and Dirkse were on the regular basketball team, while five others were on the second.

Alice Deiters won the High School Oratorical Contest.

In January we were given a splendid entertainment by the Seniors and in June we, in turn, gave them a farewell banquet.

Although a very happy affair, the last lap of our trip was, in many respects, sad, for the voyage which we had all worked to make a success was completed. Having realized this, we determined to make it the best and greatest ever. Miss Schutt was for the second time chosen our patroness, and Marshall Pellegrom our president, with Alice Deiters, vice-president; Elsie Rice, secretary; Marvin Kruizinga, treasurer.

Captain Berg, Hodal, Correl, Secory, Wiegerink, Byl, and Clay represented us on the varsity football team. On the basketball team were Captain Dirkse, Van Schelven, W. Scholtz, Wiegerink and Correll.

Under the supervision of Miss Schutt and Miss Quigley we presented "The Charm School," which was a great success.

On April 20th we gave a party in honor of the Juniors.

Our activities are over and at last we have reached the looked-for harbor. We part, each to go his own way in life, knowing that the four years spent in our voyage through Grand Haven High School will always be among our most cherished memories.

CLARISSA VAN BEMMELEN

Blue & Gold

We, the members of the Class of 1929, being about to leave G. H. H. S. for various reasons, believing ourselves to be in full possession of all obtainable knowledge, do hereby solemnly decree that the first three rows in the auditorium be rightfully considered the property of the Class of 1930. We hope that they will appreciate such a noble bequest. We also give to them the privilege of buying our text books, and aspiring to the lordly name of Seniors. To the Sophomores we leave our talent in the making of noise and general disturbances, and an example of perfect behavior. To the Freshmen we leave our dignity and great knowledge. We hope that they will make good use of this generous trust. Other personal bequests are made with the best of intentions. They follow:

I, Ruthella Baumgardner, bequeath my palpitation of the heart when Ted drives by to Annabel De Kraker.

I, Harriette Barbour, bequeath my quietness and demureness to Mary Plamondon.

I, Virginia Beecher, bequeath my system of bluffing the teachers to Marion Osterhouse, hoping she will spend her afternoons and evenings as profitably as I have.

I, Lawrence Berg, will my arguments with the coach to Stuart Boyink.

We, Edward and Stanley Bethke, being of timid natures, leave these to Charles Bugielski. May "Chuck" profit by this two-fold bequest.

I, Cleone Betts, will my pack of white permits to Kingsbury Scott. With the blue ones he has and the white ones I give him, the result will be an attractive color scheme.

I, Edith Bolton, will my record of good behavior throughout my High School life, to Marjorie Fisher.

I, Edythe Borchers, bequeath my unique bob to Leola Lynn.

I, Ruth Bos, will my ability to keep up a conversation to Laura Shoemaker.

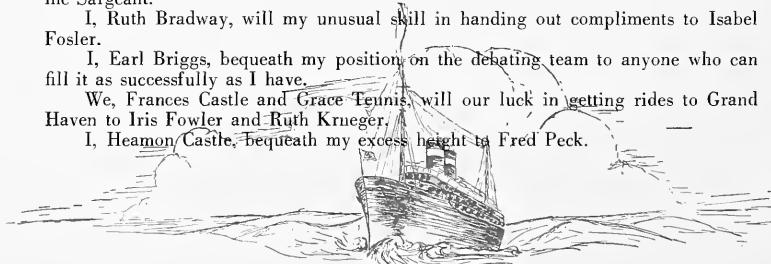

I, Shirley Bottje, leave my permanent position as lead in the operettas to Maxine Sergeant.

I, Ruth Bradway, will my unusual skill in handing out compliments to Isabel Fosler.

I, Earl Briggs, bequeath my position on the debating team to anyone who can fill it as successfully as I have.

We, Frances Castle and Grace Tennis, will our luck in getting rides to Grand Haven to Iris Fowler and Ruth Krueger,

I, Heamon Castle, bequeath my excess height to Fred Peck.

Blue & Gold

I, Raymond Carlson, will my position on the football team to anyone on the second team with the proper qualifications.

I, Warren Clay, will my superhuman genius in making and flying kites to Art Gildner.

I, Arthur Comly, bequeath my third seat in Dan's Ford to anyone who can find a girl to occupy the second seat.

I, Alice Corey, will my knowledge of the latest in hair dressing to Hazel Bolt-house.

I, Edward Correll, will my belief in Santa Claus to Victor Williams.

I, Catherine Crane, bequeath my proficiency in shorthand to Irma Bethke.

We, Charlotte Darby and Clara Ryder, will our positions in the Senior Class as Mutt and Jeff to Harvey Scholten and George Wheatley.

I, Clare De Kiep, will to any oncoming Senior any typewriting paper that Winifred Fisher may have overlooked or left otherwise intact.

I, James Dirkse, will my position on the basketball team to anyone who will play hard enough to get it.

I, Jennie Domers, being of a generous mind, do give and bequeath a share of one-half of all my numerous dates to Marion Pardee, with the condition that she keep all of them.

I, Alice Deiters, bequeath my speaking ability to Ruth Fisher.

I, Ruth Doddington, will my modesty and dignity to Arvalla Hahn.

I, Walter Fisher, bequeath my affectionate ways with the girls, along with my studious qualities, to Dan Pett.

I, John Freh, will my theories of states' rights to any Democrat who will argue about it as much as I have.

I, Mary Gahsman, will my amiability to Isabel Smith.

I, Maude Gronevelt, will my playfulness to the highest bidder.

I, Grant Hall, will my sideburns to Paul Babcock.

We, Gertrude Hansen and Laura Warnke, bequeath our good will and staunch friendship to Julia Bolthouse and Evelyn Holtrop.

I, Flora Hetzel, will my art collection to Leonardo da Vinci (deceased).

I, Rudolph Hodal, leave by literary ability to Lawrence Peters.

I, Everett Husted, will my ability to make speeches in the assemblies to Howard Johnson.

I, Dan Januska, will my trips to Muskegon to Denny Allen.

I, Louise Kieft, will my drag with the faculty to any successor.

I, Howard Kieft, will my self-confidence to James Cook.

I, Mildred Klow, will my maidenly blush to Florence Schroeder.

I, Angie Kooiman, leave and bequeath to the youthful Margaret McCue my constant companion and smile producer, namely, my powder puff.

We, Alma Kuck, Grace Kuiper, and Minnie Honholt, ask Julia Bolthouse, Evelyn Holtrop, and Hazel Bolthouse to take our places in Ferrysburg society.

I, Louise Kuhlman, bequeath my vamping ways and methods to Marion Eskilson.

I, Angeline Mulder, will my pensive ways and maidenly attributes to Lydia Williams.

I, Marvin Kruizinga, will to anyone willing to accept it, the job of collecting class dues.

I, Walter Malstrom, bequeath my patent leather hair to Maurice Katt.

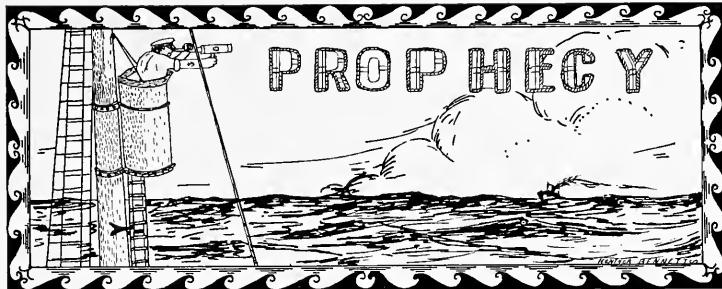

I, Wilhelmina Maebius, bequeath my 25c box of "golden" curls to Wynn Cornell.

I, Mary Nowacki, will my ideas on a strike in High School to any Junior who has nerve enough to attempt it.

Blue & Gold

- I, William Nyland, bequeath my wistful smile to George Olsen.
I, Richard O'Brien, will my horse-laugh to Eddie Nederveldt.
I, Helen Parchert, will my rouge box to Ruth Mulder.
I, Marshall Pellegron, bestow upon Arend Vyn the disease of being in love—but not with the same person with whom I am in love.
I, Alice Peterson, will my Latin translation to Ruth Soule.
I, Gertrude Peterson, pass on to my beloved sister my well worn text books, hoping she will derive as much benefit from them as I have.
I, Frances Peterson, will my daily trip to the confectioners to Margaret Dornbos. Save your pennies, Marg!
We, Bertha and Lambert Ponstein, bequeath our stand on the Democratic platform to anyone who thinks we need a change in administration.
I, Amanda Rennhack, will my perfect coiffure to Ruth Kinney.
I, Elsie Rice, will my interest in the Presley Drug Store to Ruth Baker.
I, Alis Riegels, will my position as secretary for the Blue and Gold to Gladys Roossien. She'll find plenty to do in her spare time.
We, Lorrene Bright and Maurice Rosema, will our seats in English Lit. class to anyone capable of arousing Miss Nisbett's ire.
We, Kathryn Ruiter and Louise Ellingen, will our interest in the Braak Bakery to anyone desiring an endless supply of doughnuts.
I, Wilbert Scholtz, leave to all those fortunate enough to live in the vicinity, my long hike from the Cemetery every day. I sincerely hope that their shoes will last longer than mine have.
I, Frank Secory, will my perpetual blush to anyone desiring an attribute.
I, Idanette Sluiter, will my ready wit to Donald Shirkey.
I, Genevieve Smith, bequeath my modulated voice to Florence Clark.
I, William Smith, will my insatiable wisdom to Ed. Soule.
I, Frances Swart, will my ability as violinist to Harold Dornbos.
I, Adolph Swier, will my melodious mumble to Charles Burns.
I, Adriana Van Coevering, will my velocity in typing to Alice Chamberlain.
I, Martin Van Schelven, bequeath the dust in my locker to any wee Junior who, since we all must return to dust, may need it in eternity.
I, Nell Verduin, will my musical ability to Lucille Boomgaard.
I, Cathryn Ver Murlen, will my extensive wardrobe to Caroline Davidson.
I, George Vigeant, bequeath my mustache to Kentnor Bennett.
I, Mathilda Vogel, bequeath to anyone my good fortune in so early securing a handsome and devoted man.
I, Berdean Welling, will my angelic expression to Jane Pellegron.
I, Gerrit Wiegerink, will my permanent wave to Elwood Presley. This is all he'll need to be a Don Juan.
I, Kathryn Wuennecke, bequeath to anyone who is worthy, my position in Miss Anderson's dietetics class.
I, Albert Zeldenrust, will my dress suit to Charles Modrack. With my length and his breadth it ought to be a perfect fit.
I, Three Willet, will my feminine walk to Eleanor Barr.
And, lastly, I, Winifred Fisher, will to a Junior the privilege of writing the Will for the Class of 1930.
We, the Senior Class, leave to the honored Faculty, for future use, anything of any nature whatsoever of which we have not disposed.
- We, the Senior Class, certify this as our last will and testament, witnessed on this eighteenth day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine.

Set Your Dials at 1-9-2-9

Good evening, folks; this is station G. H. H. S., Lambert Ponstein announcing. The first number on our program is a selection from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the direction of William Smith. They will play "Symphony in D Flat," written by Clara De Kiep at the request of Willamean Nyland. Gerrit Wiegerink, at the piano, is the very image of Paderewski, with a majestic, serene composure and attitude. From his piano Gerrit leads the radio world through all the realms of fairyland.

This program would not be complete without a lecture. Professor Everett Husted of Princeton University will give a report of his Research Expedition to Africa. With Professor Husted was Miss Elsie Rice, noted writer and adventuress.

A new attraction, folks, for now coming in are Ruth Doddington, Genevieve Smith, Angie Kooiman, Matilda Vogel, and Katherine Wuennecke, the moving sprites of the Ziegfeld Follies. As steppers and songsters they are no detriment to Ziegfeld's judgment.

Among the announcements we notice that the major leagues are in the midst of controversies over contracts and holdouts: Two of the Giant Stars are involved. They are Albert Zeldenrust and Martin Van Schelven. Both are hitting the ball by seeking increases, and it is expected their demands will be met, for the Giants would be failures without them.

Mlle. Verduin is here at our station. She is in America teaching women how to dress, or rather undress, according to indications. Catherine Ver Murlen, Frances Peterson, and Louise Kuhlman operate a chain of fashion shops from coast to coast. Their object is to place the woman in a better-dressed world.

Horohito Wilbert Abdul Scholtz, the Hindu clairvoyant, will answer any questions sent to our station from 7:00 to 8:00 on Thursday evenings. He will be assisted by Minhita Cleopatra Honholt.

Coming in at this moment is Angeline Mulder, co-starring with Adolph Swier, the second Adolph Menjou, the best dressed man in the movies. They are playing together in "A Night in Venice." Other members of the cast are Clara Ryder, Dick O'Brien, Helen Parchart, Ruth Bradway, and James Dirkse.

Blue & Gold

"That practice makes perfect" is the firm belief of Miss Ruth Bos, who is campaigning for nomination as representative. She seeks her term, and, if given a speaking chance, cannot lose. Her only rivals are Alice Petersen and Edith Bolton.

Coming back to our program, we are favored with a visit from Cleone Betts. Miss Betts is playing double for Billy Dove and soon expects to star.

We shall now hear the reports on the stock market by George Vigeant. Following this Rudolph Hodal from Omaha, Nebraska, will talk on "Potato Bugs and How." The weather report for tomorrow will be read by Walter Fisher.

The finals on the cross-country race are as follows: Stanley Bethke, first; Arthur Comly, second; and Edward Bethke, bringing up the rear.

We have a message here from Rev. and Mrs. Correll, missionaries to Africa. They said Marvin Kruizinga was also down there having a gay old time with the monkeys, seeing who could throw cocoanuts the farthest. They said Marvin was so far ahead, there was no fun in it any more.

Senator Howard Kieft has accepted a position in the Eatmore Candy Co. The rivalry between Maurice Rosema and John Freh for Senatorship of New Mexico is becoming bitter. The chairman of Freh's committee is Heamon Castle.

Lieutenant Warren Clay, famous aviator, has made a spectacular jump of 500 feet from one plane to another. He is setting the two continents aghast with his daring.

Alice Riegels, the widely known critic, has submitted a list of the best books of the past year. They are:

"How to Keep One's Figure," Lorrone Bright.

"The Art of Drawing a Crowd," Shirley Bottje.

"It," Laura Warnke and Flora Hetzel.

"What Is Lacking in the Woman of Today?" Tony Schippers and Raymond Carlson.

"Snow-Bound," Grace Kuiper and Frances Castle.

"Charm and How to Acquire It," Alma Kuck and Katherine Ruiter. and last but not least:

"The Missing Link Down to Date," Dan Januska.

The condition of King Marshall I of Spain is slightly improved from the latest reports. He is attended by Dr. Walter Malstrom.

The program tomorrow evening will be sponsored by the Wide-Awake Club of Bergville composed of the merchants of the village. The program was made possible through the efforts of the following citizens: Amanda Rennhack, leader of the Anti-Saloon League; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hall (Mrs. Hall, formerly Miss Gertrude Petersen); Earl Briggs, prominent criminal lawyer; Miss Adrianna Van Coevering, owner of a large bird store, specializing in parrots; Charlotte Darby, the Human Fly; and Miss Louise Kieft, matron of the Home for the Aged.

The name of little Virginia Smith, aged four, was sent in to our Birthday Corner, and we wish her a happy birthday.

Blue & Gold

Here is a telegram from Miss Grace Teunis of Baltimore, Md., requesting Miss Frances Swart to play on her violin the new song hit, "When Banana Peels Are Falling, I'll Come Sliding Back to You."

The firms who wish to advertise through this station are:

Nowacki & Deiters Fly Paper Company, Jamesville, Wis.

The Ruthella Beauty Shop, Inc.

"Why Girls Leave Home," 9th floor in the Ellingen Bank Building, Detroit, Michigan.

The Ponstein-Sluter Roller Skate Company.

"Power to Pass," Columbus, Ohio.

Stand by, folks! You will now listen to the red-hot "Corey Night Hawks," from Kansas City. Miss Winifred Fisher officiates at the piano. This orchestra, the only one of its kind, is under the direction of Harriette Barbour, and has left the cities, in which it has played, fairly sizzling. The other members of the orchestra are Gertrude Hansen, Mildred Klow, Wilhelmina Maebuis, Maude Groenevelt, Berdean Welling, Catherine Crane, and Mary Cahsman.

And now, kiddies, you shall hear your bedtime stories told by Frank Secory.

We are now signing off and wish to remind you to use nothing but Domers face powders, creams, and other beauty products.

Our next program will be June, 1930.

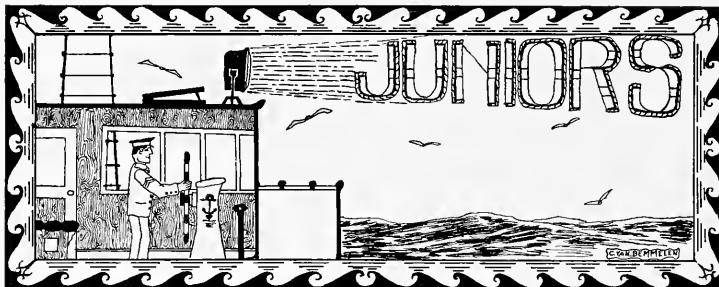

Goodnight, Everybody!

Junior Class History

As Freshmen we entered Grand Haven High School in 1926 with a class of one hundred twenty students, who elected John VanLoo as President, and Miss Fosler as Patroness.

We were capably represented on the Student Council by Annabel De Kraker and Donald VandenBelt.

During the year the Sophomores introduced us to High School social life with a party. Later in the year we entertained them.

The class President for our second year was Daniel Pett, and our Patroness, Miss Brashear.

Alice Chamberlain and George Wheatley represented us on the Student Council. After giving the Freshmen a Hard Times Party, they entertained us with a Beach Roast.

As in the Freshman Episode of our high school career, we were well represented in athletics, declamations, and other outside activities.

In our Junior year we elected Miss Quigley as our Patroness, and the following officers to assist her:

President	AREND VYN
Vice-President	SALLY HANSON
Secretary	DANIEL PETT
Treasurer	DONALD SHIRKEY

Ruth Soule, Donald VandenBelt, and Harvey Scholten represented us in the Student Council. On February 21-22, we presented "Captain Applejack" under the excellent supervision of Miss Quigley and Miss Schnitt, because of whose efforts the play was a great success.

In April we were delightfully entertained by the Seniors, and in June we gave them a reception.

Again many of the class were prominent in athletics. We were lucky in having one Junior—Stuart Boyink—to represent us on the Class B State Championship Basketball team.

Having completed our third successful year in High School, we are expectantly awaiting the time when we shall enter our last year as Seniors.

Sophomore Class History

Starting as green Freshmen, we entered High School one hundred and forty strong, in the year 1927. At our first meeting, which was called by Mr. Olsen, we elected as President, Robert Haack, and Patroness, Miss Joan Nisbett.

On the Student Council we were represented by Margaret Dornbos and George Schmick.

President Haack was presented with a green rattle by the Sophomore President at a "hard times" party they gave us. In return we entertained them with a Beach Party.

Having one man make the first team in football, and five make the reserves, we were well represented in athletics. Also, on the first basketball team we placed one man and three on the reserves. Frances Benedict won second place in the Declamation Contest.

Our vacation over, we came together once more. At our first meeting we elected the following officers:

President	· · · · ·	ELMER WHISTLER
Vice-President	· · · · ·	JESSIE MORE
Secretary	· · · · ·	SUSIE SLUKA
Treasurer	· · · · ·	ALICE DALTON
Patron	· · · · ·	MR. J. THOMA

Margaret McCue and Edward Ellingen were chosen to represent us in the Student Council.

On December twenty-first we entertained the Freshmen at a Christmas party—Santa Claus and all! Our president passed the traditional green rattle on to the Freshmen president. In February they gave us a very lovely Valentine party.

Representing us in athletics, Katt and Huttenga made the first team in football; and Dykhuis, Maddocks, Dewitt, C. Olson, R. Presley, Daane and Arkema, the reserves. Huttenga made the first team in basketball and Katt, Dykhuis, Presley, and Babcock, the reserves.

Even a more prosperous year is hoped for when we become Juniors.

Freshman Class History

The Class of 1932 was organized last September. The following officers were elected:

President	LLOYD McCRAKEN
Vice-President	CHARLES DONKER
Secretary	WILLIAM FANT, JR.
Treasurer	DONALD DEGLOPPER
Advisor	MISS REBA ANDERSON

Those chosen to represent us in the student council were: Fred Peck and Ruth Fisher.

Throughout the year the class took a great interest in social activities. The first social event given by the class was a Hallowe'en party on October 27. On December 21, the Sophomores entertained us at the annual Sophomore-Freshmen party. We, in return, gave the Sophomores a Valentine party. This was the last of our social calendar, much to the regret of the Freshmen who had fully enjoyed themselves on these happy occasions.

The class had the distinction of having one of its members win first place in the local Declamatory Contest.

We feel that our first year has been unusually successful and sincerely hope that the remaining years of our high school life may bring still more honor to the class of '32.

GUS V. COHRS

To Coach Cohrs, the "Builder of Champions." do we dedicate this section of the Blue and Gold.

His interest and enthusiasm in his work have gone far to develop that spirit of co-operation that has carried the Blue and Gold teams to the highest realms. He has given untiringly of his time and efforts to develop and maintain the high standard of sportsmanship and athletic prowess that the Grand Haven High School now enjoys.

Prospects for a championship team were very dim when Coach Gus Cohrs called for candidates. Two lettermen, Huttenga and Hodal, were the only veterans back.

To make things more dark, the Alumni did about everything imaginable to the team the first Friday of scrimmage. As a result Correll, the best bid for quarterback, received a broken collar-bone, and Dykhuis, a lineman, a wrenched knee. Berg was shifted to quarterback.

Against Zeeland Capt. Berg led his team to a 6 to 0 victory, but it wasn't very impressive because of the greenness shown by the team.

On September 29, in a hastily scheduled contest, the Blue and Gold defeated Shelby, 19 to 0. Boyink, Peters, and Hodal were the big noises. The fellows began to show a willingness to mix.

"KING" SCOTT

The first major contest was against South, who always seems to be a thorn on Grand Haven's path to glory. Again the Grand Rapids team came out on the large end of a 13 to 0 score. But the score does not show us the real Grand Haven team. Doped to be beaten by 31 points, the Cohrsmen played football for four quarters, but in the third an intercepted Grand Haven pass played havoc with the Cohrsmen. Another touchdown resulted in the last quarter when Nelson, a jinx to Grand Haven, caught a pass over the goal. The game ended with Grand Haven on South's four yard line after Boyink carried back an intercepted pass. Captain Berg, Huttenga, and Boyink were the Grand Haven luminaries. Scott, at tackle, also played a good game.

Meeting Union for the first time in history, Grand Haven suffered a 12 to 0 defeat. Grand Haven fought hard, but Union returned the fight a little better and the result was defeat for the Cohrsmen. Union made a touchdown on Clay's fumble of the kickoff, and later, by straight line-bucking. The Grand Haven line, though light, displayed a great deal of real football. Berg and Boyink starred in the back-field, the latter getting most of the tackles, plus long gains.

Kazoo came down to Grand Haven with a record of an uncrossed goal-line for the season. They lived up to their fame for three periods, holding Grand Haven at bay to the tune of 7 to 0. Then Berg and Boyink began to work their triple pass and, as a result, two touchdowns were made on the Normalites.

Grand Haven tackled Creston at the Furniture City, and regretted it very much. Creston, with a strong forward wall and a plunging, clever backfield, smothered the Cohrsmen 20 to 0. Captain Berg on his first attempt took the ball about 40 yards, but, on being tackled, he sprained his thumb, which forced him to leave the game. Possibly there would have been a difference in the score if "Weiner" had stayed in.

Holland was doped to have a great football team, but it was not until the last quarter when the Hollanders unleashed an end-running attack that completely baffled the Cohrsmen, thus proving their greatness. The Havenites, as usual, put up a strong, clean fight, but Holland was better, and it was a case where the best team won.

Benton Harbor came to Grand Haven with a powerful team. They started right in with their bone-crushing tactics, and began piling up touchdowns. The Havenites fought hard, but the Webermen were not to be outclassed. In the last quarter the Cohrsmen opened up, and, on a series of passes, Huttenga snared one across the last white stripe for the Haven touchdown. The final score was 33 to 6. Huttenga was the outstanding player of the game.

Doped to be beaten by at least thirty points, the Blue and Gold warriors again put the jinx on a highly touted Muskegon Heights team. Heights came down with their famous "five horsemen" and went home with them, but that's all they accomplished. The Cohrsmen, in a sea of mud, played football, and played it with enough brains to outclass the Johnsonmen.

To the Haven ends goes the credit of stopping the Heights' clever offense. The backfield also performed well, as usual. Secory was outstanding among the players in the game. Time and again this lineman broke through to stop the fast Heights backs as they attempted line-smashes or end-runs.

It is very seldom that a football player with no previous experience place a consistent brand of ball throughout the season. Secory was an exception. He had no so-called "off days" but was always playing his game carefully and coolly. He learned something every game and taught it the next. It was very seldom that you heard his name mentioned as a "star"; but this young giant oftentimes single-handedly stopped the rushes of such teams as South, Union, Benton Harbor and Heights. It was in the Heights game that he rose to the "peak" of his high school career. Time after time he threw the Heights backs as they were in the shadows of the Haven goal posts. Summing up his work in this game, we can easily say he spent most of that memorial afternoon in the Heights backfield, throwing their fast backfield men for loss after loss.

The candidates for the second team came out a few days later than the first team warriors. Mr. Bosworth was introduced as their coach. As always when a second team coach gets a fairly well worked machine going, the Varsity Coach picks a couple of players for his squad. But Coach Bosworth had plenty of material, a variety of plays, and being a football player himself, the fellows picked up the game quickly. Games were scheduled and played although these games were easier than the constant banging around received at the hands of the Varsity during nightly scrimmage. Moody and Yemc, both Freshmen, should make good in their three years to come. Modrack, Olsen, Haack, E. Presley, R. Presley, Fett, Ennenga, Dykhuis, and Nedervelt should put up a good fight for first team jobs next year.

Hats off to the coach and team that brought back to Grand Haven her third State Class B Championship!

When Coach Gus Cohrs issued a call for basketball candidates a large delegation answered his call. Prospects for a team of championship caliber was seen when such veteran players as Boyink, Byl, Dirkse and Van Schelven came out. A good back guard was needed and Wiegerink developed rapidly to hold down this position.

The first game seemed to dim our vision when Holland Christian High, a Class C team, won handily by a 31 to 26 score. The locals were good, but the fast, lanky Hollanders were better and used their height to advantage. Boyink found the loop for six field goals and four fouls to lead the Cohrsmen.

Grand Haven came back strong the next game against St. Joe, coming out on the long end of a 32 to 23 score. Their teamwork was better, giving the crowd fast, snappy action. Boyink again was the local luminary, caging five field goals and four free throws.

Then South just had to be avenged for their football victory. But things looked bad when Grand Haven was trailing badly at the half. So Huttenga, sub center, was sent in and he came through bringing a 16 to 13 victory over the Gettings' clan.

VAN SCHELVEN—Center

The old jinx held good against Muskegon Heights again and Grand Haven put another game in the win column, this time by a score of 23 to 12. Heights lead at the first quarter, but when Huttenga, the new "find," went in it was just too bad for the Tigers.

The next week Holland came down with a large band of rooters to back their clever team. Grand Haven went wild when the last whistle blew, and found the Cohrsmen ahead, 29 to 20. The game was nip and tuck until Scholtz and Correll broke the Hollanders' fighting spirit with three nice under-the-basket shots. But to Byl goes the major credit for the victory, who almost single-handedly kept the Cohrsmen in the lead.

Creston came down with a clean slate and went home with one. The Polar Bears outclassed the Blue and Gold warriors after a terrific game, but not until Ludwick, the visiting center, ran wild for six field goals, was the victor known. The score was 28 to 20.

South got her second trimming after coming to the local gym on a train, because of a blizzard. South was doped to be improved, but the Havenites ran up an easy 22 to 12 victory.

The next game found Grand Haven down on the Benton Harbor court. It turned out to be a regular tight game, and not until a thrilling rally in the final three minutes of the game did the local basketeers win. Van Schelven evidently found his basket eye in those closing minutes, sinking two goals and two free throws to cinch things.

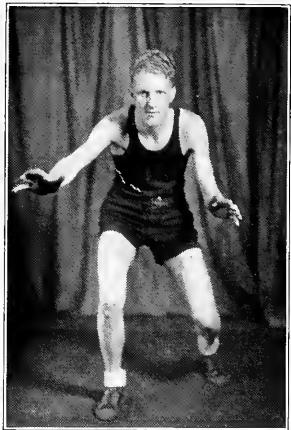

Muskegon Heights could not take advantage of the Grand Haven slump, and lost, 20 to 12. The locals' basket shooting was rotten, their passing worse, and cockiness rather evident. Regezci, the Tiger star, "cashed in" on three goals, but in vain. Huttenga seemed to be the only player who could sink them.

HUTTENGA—Forward

WIEGERINK—Guard

Creston went to pieces in the last few minutes and the Havenites earned an even break in games won by a score of 27 to 19. Grand Haven's defense was too strong for Creston, Wiegink playing a stellar game at guard. Capt. Dirkse also showed a good brand of ball. Huttenga got five field goals to lead the Blue and Gold scorers.

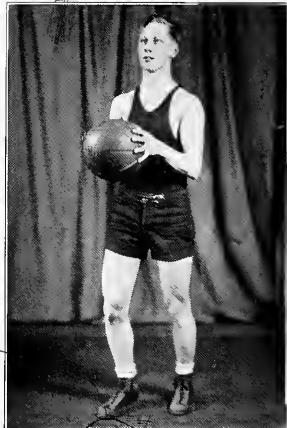

Playing their last scheduled home game against Benton Harbor, the Grand Haven baskeeteers swamped Benton Harbor, 32 to 16. Boyink got "hot" with five field goals, followed by Huttenga's four. "Izzie" Goldstein was the only Harborite who could score, getting three pretty half-court shots.

Holland got an even break in basketball games, having won from the Cohrsmen a 22 to 18 victory on the Armory floor at Holland. It was too bad. The Cohrsmen played raggedly against the sharp-shooting Hollanders. The last quarter saw the Grand Haven guards tighten up on defense and the offense began to function, but it was too late.

At St. Joe the Havenites had to play in a "cheesebox." The gym was high, but small, and the Cohrsmen could not work their plays, so that they would end up with the customary under-the-basket shots. The players from St. Joe made their points on long shots. The score was tied at the end of the regular playing time, 8 to 8. In the overtime period St. Joe made two long shots to take the game. Capt. Dirkse was the outstanding star with three field goals and a free throw.

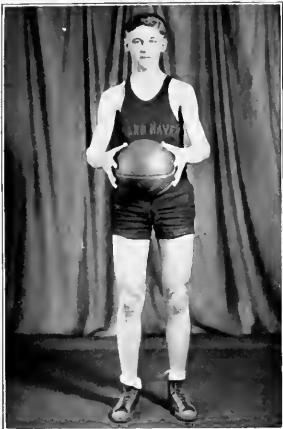

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

Grand Haven and Muskegon Heights met in the only Class B encounter down in the Heights' gym. The Havenites started out like a house afire to pile up a 23 to 5 lead. The stars were benched and Coach Cohrs sent in a team composed of subs and second team men. H. Scholtz quickly located the basket for four field goals. Van Schelven got five while he was in, getting the scoring honors. The final score was 34 to 17.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT

The next week the Blue and Gold basketeers met Greenville at Grand Rapids. Greenville had a fast offense and a strong defense, keeping the Cohrsmen working hard throughout the game. It was one of the fastest games the Havenites played this year. But in the fourth quarter Greenville began to wear out and the locals went into a lead that gave them a 34 to 22 victory. Van Schelven and Boyink looked good in this game, getting 19 points between them.

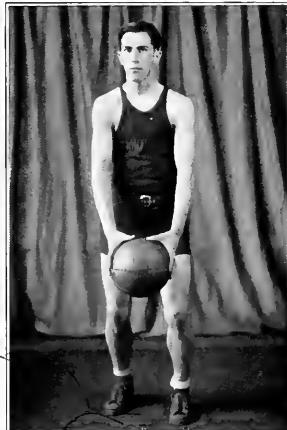

Two days later the Cohrsmen annexed the Regional Class B honors by defeating Grand Rapids Catholic Central, 18 to 15. The parochial boys played a slow, strong defensive game that bewildered the Havenites. The Furniture City team was ahead at the half, 9 to 5, but lost the lead in the fourth quarter as the Grand Haven boys stepped ahead to a 18 to 15 victory. Van Schelven was the scoring ace, getting three field goals.

STATE TOURNAMENT

Grand Haven entered the State Tournament at Detroit as a result of its winning the Regional Tournament. Mt. Pleasant was its first opponent. The Cohrsmen were closely pressed the first half, but after this they stepped out to get a 29 to 14 victory.

The next day an old rival was played when the Cohrsmen drew St. Joe as their opponent in the semi-finals. The Havenites scored 7 points in the first quarter; St. Joe failed to tally. The half found Grand Haven ahead, 14 to 5. The last half was close, both teams scoring 16 points. But Coach Cohrs was figuring on the next game, so he played his subs in this half. Huttenga and Van Schelven were the stars for Grand Haven; the lanky center got nine points, while Huttenga got eight.

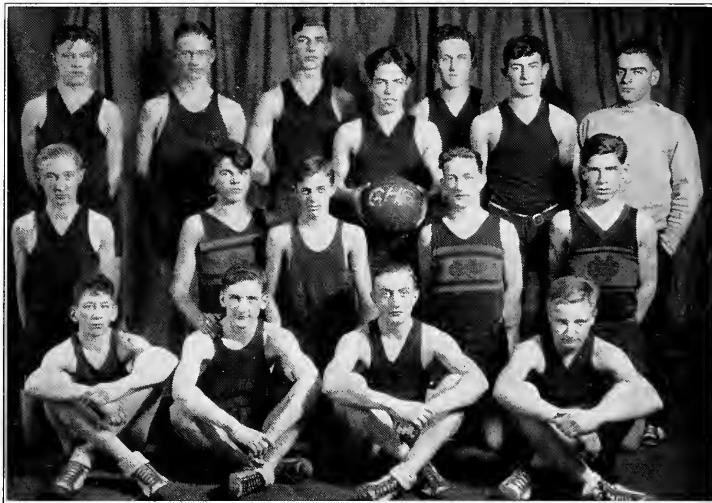

Saturday night the locals played Stambaugh, a high school that had Cohrs as a coach before he came to Grand Haven. The Stambaugh outfit was good and never stopped fighting until the final whistle, but the Havenites knew too much basketball and were too tall for them. The Havenites were not forced to extend themselves, and, behind a strong defense, sank enough baskets to carry away the State Championship, with a 25 to 18 score.

Second Team Basketball

The Second team in basketball was under the direction of Coach Bosworth. The coach readily showed his knowledge of basketball to the Scrubs, and, as a result, a powerful aggregation was formed. They seemed a little unsteady at first, often playing ragged ball. Then Berg, a diminutive player, came back from the first team. He was made regular captain and it was his cool-headed playing and leadership that inspired the others to play together and play together consistently.

Powerful second teams, such as South, Muskegon Heights, Creston and Holland were trounced by the Bosworth combination. Almost every game saw the Seconds run up a score of 40 points on their opponents. Of these forty or so "Bo" Carlson almost always got sixteen or seventeen points. Then Scholtz was also a high scoring cog in their smooth-working machine. Katt and Ennenga were the guards. They played pretty floor games and too much cannot be said about their defensive tactics. Many others also saw service and many of these were from the lower classes, giving Coach Cohrs plenty of material for the next few years to come. Carlson, Scholtz, Katt, Dykhuis, and Fett ought to make strong bids for the first team next year.

CITY TOURNAMENT

The Second team entered the City Tournament and won that, defeating the Van Zylens, a team composed of former high school stars. They then entered the A. A. V. Tournament and went to the semi-finals where they were defeated by a lanky Seventh Reformed team.

Track

As soon as the balmy spring weather came around, Coach Cohrs issued a call for track candidates. Although a goodly number of fellows came out, the prospects were not any too good. Union High School was our first opponent, and we lost the meet by a score of 97-23. The local thinclads were good in field events, but faltered on the cinder path. Olsen took first in the high jump and Van Schelven took first in the shot.

The next week found both Holland and South down on Ferry Field to engage in the annual triangular meet. South took an easy victory from her two opponents, scoring 80 ½ points to Holland's 29 ½, and Grand Haven's 14. Hodal took first place in the broad jump event with a pretty leap of twenty feet and three-quarters inches. Van Schelven heaved the shot more than thirty-nine feet to take the only other first place the Cohrsmen obtained.

The next week Muskegon Heights came down and won her first victory in a major sport over the Cohrsmen. The final score was 67 ½ to 54 ½. It was a case of too much Reecezi for the Havenites. This Heights athlete took four first places. Van Schelven took first in the shot for Grand Haven, Dirkse in the discus, Wiegerink in the high jump, and Scholtz took firsts in the low and high hurdles.

Then the pick of the team went to Kalamazoo and engaged in the regional meet. Van Schelven was the only man to qualify and thus will enter the State meet.

Tennis

Early in the year Coach Thoma called a meeting of the tennis men and organized a tournament. About twenty students entered and competed, with the following results:

Singles: Ferguson, winner; Vanden Belt, runner-up.

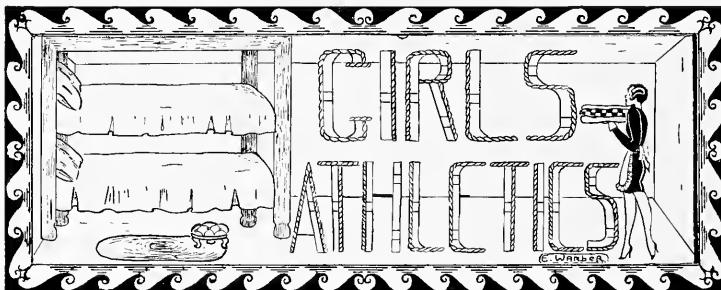

Doubles: Boyink and Kruizinga, winners; Wiegerink and Corell, runners-up.

Several changes in the rank of the men took place by means of a challenge tournament. Ferguson and Vanden Belt became the No. 2 double team.

On the day of the triangular meet, South's tennis team defeated the Grand Haven players, 4 to 0. The following Thursday Grand Haven played Holland to a tie of 3 to 3.

A week later, in the return match, Holland was victor with a score of 6-0. A few days later Heights was defeated and then South gave the local netmen a 6-0 defeat.

Basketball

No regular High School girls' team was organized this year, but rather than giving a few the privilege of playing, Miss Smith organized a league giving all the girls a chance to play. The Senior-Junior girls developed into a winning combination and landed into first place. This sextette was composed of many regulars on the girls' varsity team of last year. The Sophomore girls were next and then strung along in the lower division were the Freshmen girls, who were divided into three teams.

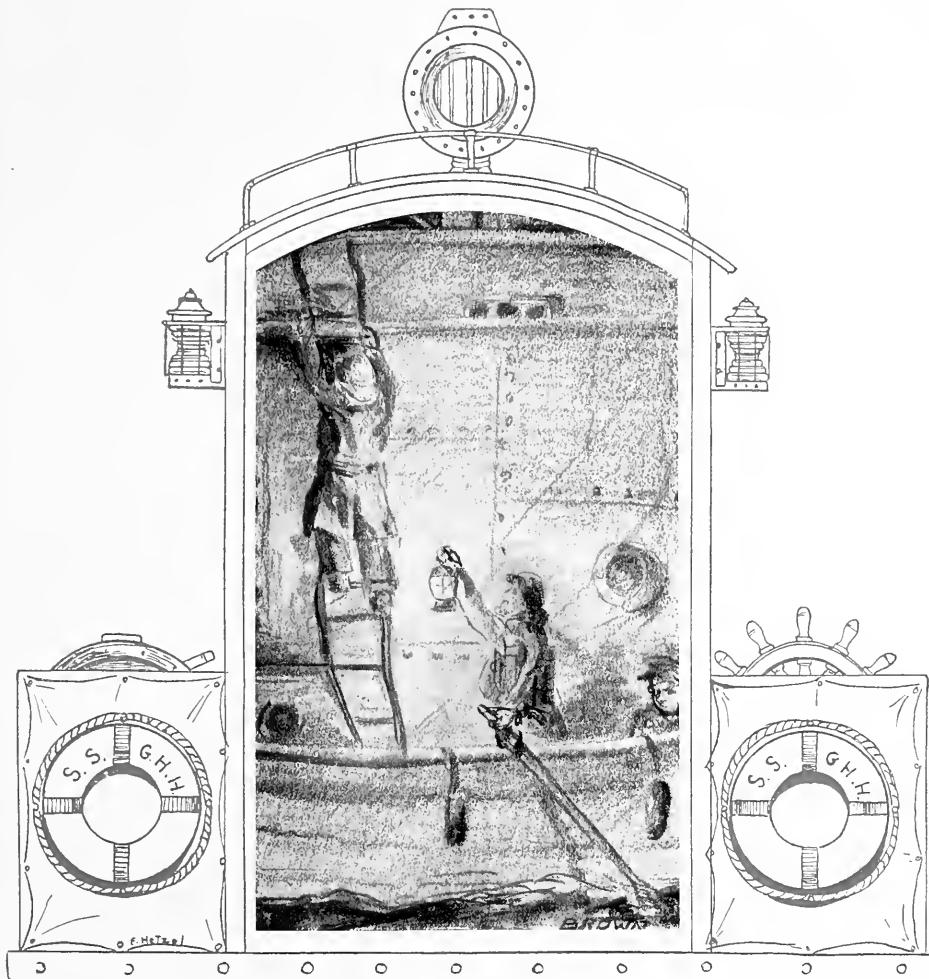

We can readily see by the number of Freshmen who came out that the girls now are as eager to play basketball as the boys, and more and more schools are adopting the boys' rules, speeding up the game considerably.

Hockey

Last year Miss Smith brought the game of hockey to the girls of Grand Haven. Now it is an established game and the girls can be seen out on Ferry Field night after night, practicing and playing this old English pastime. The game is played about as ice hockey. The object of trying to put the puck between the opponents' goal posts gives as many thrills as the hectic game of ice hockey.

This year about sixty girls came out to enjoy themselves in the sharp autumn weather. Although no games with other schools were scheduled, teams were chosen and everyone got a chance to play.

"The Charm School"

On December sixth and seventh, the first school play of the year was successfully staged by the Senior class. The production was "The Charm School," written by Alice Duer Miller and Robert Milton.

The story centered around a handsome young automobile salesman, Austin Bevans, who inherited a girls' boarding school. As it had been his life ambition to teach school rather than sell automobiles, he decided to change the school into a "charm school." But Mr. Johns held a heavy mortgage on the place, and it was necessary to consult him and receive his approval. His permission was given rather unwillingly and on two conditions: First, that none of the girls should fall in love with him; and second, that Miss Hays, the principal of the school and former wife of Mr. Johns, should remain, as second in command.

Elise Benedotti, the niece of Mr. Johns, immediately complicates matters by falling in love with Austin. This very much dismays George Boyd, a friend of Austin, who is himself in love with Elise. In the end, Austin admits that Elise "has charm," and George bids her a fond farewell.

The "inmates" of the boarding school, led by mischievous Sally, provided many humorous situations. The play would not have been complete without Jim, who added life to it by his infatuation for Sally, and his financial difficulties; or without David, who was a confirmed bachelor and great friend of Austin; or Miss Curtis, the secretary, who desired to please all.

Much credit is due to Miss Schutt and Miss Quigley, the directors.

"Captain Applejack" given by the Junior class, on February twenty-first and twenty-second, under the capable direction of Miss Quigley and Miss Schutt, was one of the best plays of the history of the high school.

The first act takes place in a lonely home on the coast of Cornwall, about which lingers a subtle suggestion of mystery. Around this is woven a very interesting plot. In the first act, Ambrose AppleJohn craves adventure, which Poppy Faire dislikes, for she is in love with him. Mrs. Whatcombe, the aunt, cannot understand why Ambrose is so troubled, and fears something to be wrong. Anna Valeska, very beautifully dressed, enters in this act, supposedly escaping the hands of Borolsky, who in the end, turns out to be her husband. Ambrose falls completely in love with her. Ambrose in the second act, dreams he is captain of a pirate ship. Poppy is a clever cabin boy and Anna Valeska, a captured Portugese. The mutiny of the crew led by Borolsky adds much to the atmosphere. The last act is the love scene—and is well carried out. The crooks are captured, and Ambrose tells Poppy he isn't going away to seek adventure, for he has found it at home.

Mr. Thoma, business advisor, and the members of the various committees deserve much credit in making the play a success.

Orchestra

The Grand Haven High School Orchestra was organized February 10, 1926. For two years it was under the direction of Prof. Morrison and for the past two years under Mr. M. F. Richards.

The Orchestra has played at a number of social functions and public gatherings, such as Community Club banquets, High School plays, Monday morning chapels, etc. Much progress has been made in the type of music played, and the efforts of the group have always been appreciated.

Girls' Glee Club

This year the Girls' Glee Club was organized under the direction of Miss George. At the first meeting Susie Sluka was elected President and Margaret Dornbos, Secretary and Treasurer. At mid-year, Miss Elsie Anderson succeeded Miss George.

We have a trio composed of Shirley Bottje, Ruth Fisher, and Velma Veltman. The Glee Club and the trio sang at various occasions, such as assemblies, the dedication of the Ferry School, teachers' banquet, Woman's Club, and the Band Concert. We have new uniforms of blue and gold to wear when we appear on such occasions.

Band

During the past year our band has taken a great step forward, which unquestionably is due to Mr. Richard's untiring work, and the co-operation which has been given him by the members. Five new members have been added, making a total of forty-nine. Much new equipment has been added, including two new sousaphones. Two associate bands have been maintained, one in the High School, and the other in Junior High.

During the year the band played on the following occasions: All home football games, several assemblies, opening of Great White Way, and the Third Annual Band Concert. The band attended the Knights Templar Conclave at Benton Harbor as guests of the Howell Commandery.

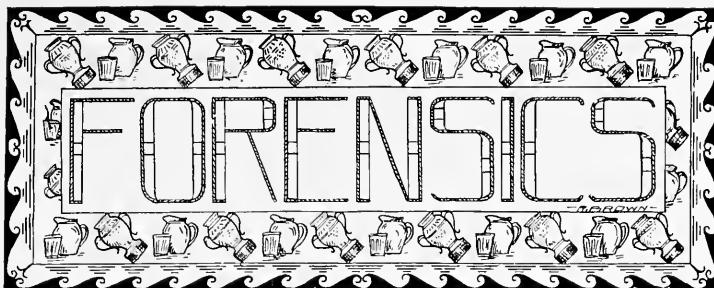

The social events of the year include our entertaining of the Muskegon Heights Band, after the Muskegon Heights football game, with a banquet. We were entertained at their concert later on in the year. The Holland Band entertained us after the Holland football game there with an excellent banquet.

Plans for the future include the addition of bassoon and oboe players and the development of an organization that will have a high rating in street marching, and at the State Contests.

Declamation and Oratory

MARION KAMHOUT

Each year, more interest seems to be taken in forensics, and this is a fact to be desired, because one can never have too great a speaking power.

This year all the Freshmen and Sophomores memorized a declamation and after various eliminations, six remained for the final contest. These were: Marion Kamhout, Donald De Gopper, Ruth Fisher, Freshmen; Herman Van Opynen, Frances Benedict, and Gertrude Ringleberg, Sophomores.

All Juniors and Seniors were given the privilege of writing an oration. Going through the same sort of eliminations, six of these remained. They were: Ruth Mulder, Iris Fowler, Alice K. Petersen, Juniors; Frances Swart, Walter Fisher, and Alice Deiters, Seniors.

On February 28, 1929, the local contests were held. Walter Fisher took first place with his oration, "Will You Do Your Part?" Alice Deiters took second place with her oration, "The Menace of Atheism."

In declamatory, Marion Kamhout took first place with "The New South" by Henry W. Grady and Frances Benedict took second with "The Responsibilities of War" by William Channing.

The winners of first places were awarded a gold pin and the second place winners, a silver pin.

The two people winning first place will represent Grand Haven in the sub-district declamatory and oratory contest to be held in Zeeland.

Our wish is that next year even more interest will be shown in this part of the high school activities.

Debate

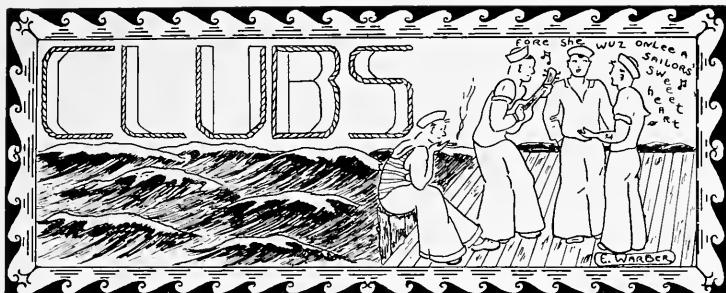

Unusual interest was shown in debating at Grand Haven High School this year. Twenty-two people volunteered for debate work. After this group had studied the question for several weeks, tryouts were held. The coaches selected five people, three of whom were inexperienced. The affirmative team consisted of Earl Briggs, Marvin Kruizenga, and Louise Kieft. The negative team consisted of Earl Briggs, Raymond Francisco, and George Wheatley. Throughout the year, in addition to debating the four schools assigned them by the Michigan Debate League, these people met several schools in practice debates. The debaters, and the students who contributed material, feel that the year has been a most profitable one.

The question for debate was: "Resolved, That a Federal Subsidy for the Development of an American Merchant Marine Would Be a Wise National Policy." There were three judges for each debate and their decisions were as follows:

Muskegon	2	Grand Haven.....	1
South	3	Grand Haven.....	0
Creston	0	Grand Haven.....	3
Muskegon Heights.....	2	Grand Haven.....	1

This spring a debate club consisting of thirty members was organized under the direction of the coaches, Miss Fosler and Miss Vander Werf. Its aim is to give training in debate to all students who are interested in this line of work.

Student Council

The Student Council is the students' representative body. Its aim is to bring about a closer relationship between the students and the faculty.

There are ten members, the Freshmen and Sophomore classes each having two representatives, and the Junior and Senior classes, each three.

This year we elected John Freh, President; Harvey Scholten, Vice-President; and Margaret McCue, Secretary. The remaining members are: Ruth Fisher, Grace Kuiper, Ruth Soule, Fred Peck, Edward Ellingen, Donald Vanden Belt and George Vigeant.

We have undertaken several problems this year. Among them are the restriction of extra-curricular activities, the securing of chapel and assembly programs, the organization of social activities, and the establishment of a Lost-and-Found Bureau.

We expect to solve these problems for this year. We sincerely hope that the Student Council of the future will successfully carry on this work, which we, and the Student Council of the past, have begun.

Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Grand Haven are members of a national organization whose active membership numbers 190,309 girls. Girl Scouting was founded in 1912 in Savannah, Georgia, by Juliette Low, with eight members. Today it reaches 2,816 communities in our country.

The Girl Scout movement seeks to give to each of its members a practical wisdom which will enable her to face each day with a brave heart. This it endeavors to achieve by providing an environment and leadership in which the girls themselves learn to do by planning and doing.

Campfire

Motto—“WOHELO” (Work, Health, Love)

There are three Camp Fire Groups in Grand Haven High School: The Aiockpanchi, Tatapochon and Aidesasa, under the guardianship of Miss Hattie Young, Miss Flora Quigley and Miss Reba Anderson respectively. The President of each group is as follows: The Aiockpanchi, Berdean Welling; Tatapochon, Ruth Bas; Aidesasa, Louise Kieft.

During the school year the combined groups conduct a candy store in school, and sell candy and frost bites at the games—to earn money. Two-thirds of the money earned goes to a school fund and the remainder to the Camp Fire fund.

The girls have been aiming constantly to carry out the purpose and laws of the Camp Fire. Christmas gave opportunity for service—through the gifts of baskets, toys, etc., to needy families. Not only at Christmas, however, have the Camp Fire Girls carried out one of their laws, “Give Service;” during the school year, scrap books were sent to a school in Pine Mountain, Kentucky, and contributions to the Erie Welfare Chapel in Chicago, Illinois.

Camp Fire Girls have parties of various kinds, enjoy hikes and house parties and indulge in many outdoor sports. Thus, in this organization are found work and play—pleasantly combined.

The Hi-Y Club, in our third year as an organization, has been very successful. We have taken part in various activities for the betterment of our school.

At the first of the year we increased our membership from seven to nineteen by taking in Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors of good standing.

Outside of our regular meetings, our other activities have been numerous. Members of the Hi-Y checked wraps at the plays and basketball games. A joint meeting of the Holland and Grand Haven Hi-Y's was held in the local gym.

During the second semester the Hi-Y sponsored our chapel services. For a Friday morning assembly we presented a one-act play, "A Case of Suspension," which made a big hit with the students.

The Older Boys' Conference was well attended by members of the local club.

We hope that in years to come the Hi-Y Club will continue in G. H. H. S., and will do still more for the school than we have done.

Home Economics

This is the third year of activity for the Home Economics Club, which was organized in 1926 by Miss Mary Vischer. Since then Miss Anderson, Miss Goodwin, and Miss Towers have acted as sponsors.

Sally Hanson was President for 1928-29; Mildred Kooiman, Vice-President; Alice Van Doorn, Secretary, and Frances Petersen, Treasurer.

The Home Economics Club cooked and served the banquet when our band entertained the band from Muskegon Heights. This has become a yearly project. The club also completed a baby layette which was used for charity purposes in connection with the Junior Red Cross.

During the spring, the club gave a party and dance with extensive program planned for the enjoyment of the Hi-Y Club members, who were its guests.

November 14, 1928, marks the date of the organization of the "Key Ticklers." The purpose of the club is to create interest and efficiency in typewriting. The membership is limited to Juniors and Seniors whose grades average A, B, or C. Berdean Welling is the club reporter for the "Havenite."

The organization is not only of a social but also of an instructive nature and although this is the first year of its organization, we feel sure that it is going to keep enlarging, and to be of more interest to many others.

Havenite

With the beginning of the school year in September, 1928, the Havenite Staff was chosen from a number of tryouts by Miss Enid Rowley, faculty advisor.

Co-operating with George Wheatley, editor-in-chief, were: Thelma Murie and Bertrum Vigeant, assistant editors; Gerrit Wiegerink, business manager; Alice Van Doorne, assistant business manager; Elmer Spangler, advertising manager; Tom Soule and Mildred Kooiman, assistant advertising managers; James Arkema, athletic reporter; Raymond Francisco, club reporter; Frances Peterson, joke editor; Miss Enid Rowley, advisor.

Later in the year a further division was made in the staff. The new divisions were, exchange editor and general news reporter, taken by Bertrum Vigeant and Catherine Nauta, respectively. It was also necessary to make a few changes in the staff. Margaret Dornbos took the place of Raymond Francisco as club reporter; Stuart Gross and Marvin Huizenga filled the vacancies as assistant advertising managers left by Mildred Kooiman and Tom Soule. Everett Husted served for a short time in this same department.

This is the second year our school has been able to issue a school paper.

The staff, as a whole, worked together splendidly and endeavored to make the paper of interest to every student. The staff has proved itself both energetic and efficient in issuing the bi-weekly paper.

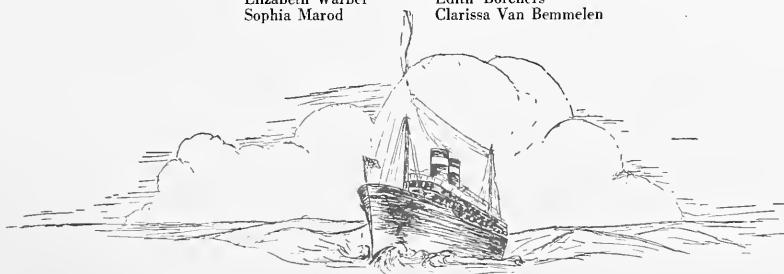

Art Club

The Blue and Gold Art Club has completed another successful year. At the first call for members, many responded. Since the shipping theme was to be carried throughout the annual, we spent an evening aboard a boat so that we might get ideas for the various sections. With Miss Fosmoe as art advisor and Edward Bethke as art editor, the club has produced the divisional pages, headings, "ex-libris," "finis," and cartoons.

We heartily express our best wishes for success to next year's Art Club.

The "Blue and Gold" has for many years been an outstanding activity for the Seniors of Grand Haven High School. It is a project which calls for the co-operation and support of many people throughout the entire year.

The 1929 "Blue and Gold" staff was composed of fifteen members, each one having his own function to perform.

Work was begun in the spring of 1928 when the advisor, editor-in-chief and snap editor were chosen. At this time a theme was selected which would successfully link together the sections of the book and would have some relation to Grand Haven and school life.

In the fall the remaining members of the staff were chosen. The "skeleton" of the book was planned and the rest of the year was spent in filling in the "skeleton" to make a unified whole.

Without the assistance of the faculty advisor, Miss Brashear, we feel that we would have been unable to edit this book. Add to this helpful guidance, the whole-hearted support of our student body, and you have another reason for the success of our enterprise.

We would also call attention to the interpretive work of Miss Fosmoe and the "Blue and Gold" Art Club, whose talent lends an added attraction to our annual.

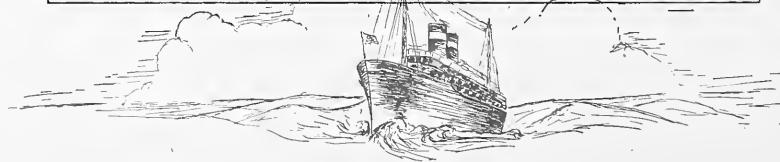

Thus as a result of co-operation and hearty support of many people, who spent pleasant hours planning and working together, a book has been produced which we hope may take its place beside other annuals of the High School, as a distinctive contribution by the Class of 1929.

The Log

Proud Freshman

- Sept. 4—Everyone back to school ready to embark on a long, ten month cruise. Captain Olsen gives us words of advice and tells us to get our locker keys.
- Sept. 5—Football candidates report to Coach Cohrs.
- Sept. 10—Miss Greener speaks on thrift. Marshall Pellegron elected Senior Class President.
- Sept. 12—Blue and Gold staff hold first meeting to talk over the new '29 annual.
- Sept. 14—Sophomores and Juniors are assigned seats in auditorium, so if they get lost while on the way there, Mr. Olsen can send out rescue squads to find them. Quarterback Correll breaks collarbone in alumni game.
- Sept. 18—Camp Fire Girls meet for first time, undoubtedly thinking up schemes to sell more "hot dogs" or "frost bites."
- Sept. 19—Juniors choose Arend Vyn as President.
- Sept. 21—First assembly of the year under direction of Juniors. The "gang" entertains with vocal selections. Prof. Thoma gives an inspiring lecture on —?—on—?—?!
- Sept. 22—A green Grand Haven football crew defeats the Zeeland High crew, 6 to 0.
- Sept. 24—Rev. Clay of the Clay Kite Corp. gave an interesting talk on "kites" at the Monday assembly.
- Sept. 25—Broken collarbones are becoming the fad.
- Sept. 26—Another Senior class meeting to decide on a photographer who can take homely faces and make them beautiful on his pictures.
- Sept. 29—Grand Haven wallops Shelby at Ferry Field, 19 to 0.

OCTOBER

- Oct. 3—Senior class meeting to elect people to the Student Council. George Vigeant, Grace Kuiper and John Freh are elected.
- Oct. 5—Pep meeting before the South game. Mr. King tells us what he knows about "sportsmanship" (penalized for holding?). The "Buds," Cook and Wierenger, display their oratorical skill. "Stars from Broadway" was another added attraction.
- Oct. 6—Grand Haven receives its seemingly annual defeat at the hands of South, 13 to 0.
- Oct. 8—Dr. De Kraker defends the high school youth of today—and how! High school orchestra makes first appearance.
- Oct. 9—No more slings seen in school.
- Oct. 10—Picture day. All clubs have pictures taken.
- Oct. 11—Science Club calls meeting for new members.
- Oct. 13—Union comes down to Grand Haven with a big bunch of "bruisers" to gain a 12 to 0 victory over the Cohrsmen. Mr. Olsen talks to Seniors.
- Oct. 15—Rev. Meengs of Spring Lake speaks at chapel exercises.

Blue & Gold

Blue & Gold

Blue & Gold

- Oct. 16*—Everybody starts to register for school election. Ceiling falls in Room 304 and kids get plastered.
- Oct. 17*—"Won't you subscribe to the Annual?" is heard everywhere as the Annual staff "nails" everyone for a half a dollar.
- Oct. 18*—Democrats under L. Ponstein get together. Look at the "brown derbies."
- Oct. 20*—The famous Berg-to-Boyink-to-Berg pass results in a Grand Haven victory over Kazoo, 12 to 7.
- Oct. 22*—Mr. Hatton urges students to get their parents to register for coming election. Study body answers with the song "Not Understood."
- Oct. 23*—Senior Play try-outs.
- Oct. 24*—Register yet?
- Oct. 25*—Al Smith cohorts give talk in front of High School building.
- Oct. 26*—Republicans attempt to do the same, but the Democrats "razeberry" them to death.
- Oct. 27*—Creston gives us a 20 to 0 trouncing. Freshmen have Hallowe'en party.
- Oct. 29*—Miss Bell's history class have heated political arguments over the presidential candidates—Smith and Hoover.

Oct. 31—Hallowe'en. Big parade for kiddies and a free motion picture at High School auditorium.

NOVEMBER

- Nov. 1*—Get pulled in by "Chief" last night?
- Nov. 2*—Republicans, Democrats and the Anti-Bunks present their party platforms to Student Body before the Friday assembly. Student Council holds pep meeting and snake dance for the Holland game.
- Nov. 3*—The Woodenshoes give us a 25 to 0 trimming.
- Nov. 5*—Mr. Misner explains how to vote and why. Tomorrow is the Big Election. Who is going to win?
- Nov. 6*—Seniors act as election officers and the Big Election is on.
- Nov. 7*—Mr. Hoover wins, 299 to Smith's 87.
- Nov. 8*—Smith followers mourn over loss of election. Better luck next time. Democrats!
- Nov. 9*—Who's going to win tomorrow?
- Nov. 10*—Answer: Benton Harbor. Only 33 to 6!
- Nov. 12*—Debaters give assembly.
- Nov. 13*—Seniors begin practicing "The Charm School."
- Nov. 14*—Mr. Lake leaves Manual Training Department to take a position in a Holland factory. Welcome, Mr. Bosworth!
- Nov. 15*—"Stop Muskegon Heights by stopping Regeczi" becomes Havenites war cry.
- Nov. 16*—Big "pep meeting" assembly. Martin Van Schelven, chairman, introducing team and the following noted speakers: Coach Bosworth, Coach Cohrs and Captain Berg.
- Nov. 17*—Cohrsmen in a sea of mud overcome a highly touted Muskegon Heights eleven to the tune of 6 to 0.
- Nov. 20*—Many Seniors go to court to hear naturalization exams.
- Nov. 21*—Individual football pictures taken. "Let me hold the ball. I'm a backfield man!"

"Mercy, what a sheltered life you've led."

Nov. 28—Senior pictures arrive. "Oh, isn't he cute?" "Isn't she darling?" "Gimme one!" "Trade ya one." Or, "What have you?"

Nov. 29—Thanksgiving vacation. At last a rest, but soon we will be all coaled up and ready to shove off again.

DECEMBER

Dec. 6—Walter Fisher and Virginia Beecher play leads in "Charm School" as it meets with huge success.

Dec. 7—Student Council puts on good musical assembly. Seniors again play before a packed house.

Dec. 10—Basketball season opens poorly for the Cohrsmen as they bow to Holland Christian High, 31-26.

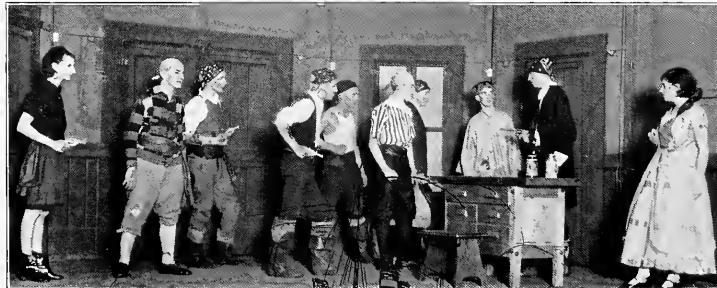

Dec. 17—Boys who attended the Older Boys' Conference at Holland give an assembly, including songs, speeches and experiences.

Dec. 21—Mr. King impersonates Santa and distributes gifts to the boys and girls. I wonder if Eddie Correll got his wish. SCHOOL CLOSES FOR YEAR.

JANUARY, 1929

Jan. 2—The ship has ridden fine so far, not a storm encountered and everyone eager to get started trying out their new resolutions. Ship ahoy!!!

Jan. 4—Mr. Olsen talks to Seniors during regular assembly hour.

Blue & Gold

Blue & Gold

- Jan. 9—Miss Bell falls victim to the "flu."
- Jan. 11—Grand Haven debaters defeat Creston, 3-0. Grand Haven Basketeers defeat Holland, 29-20. A good day's work!
- Jan. 18—Student Council gives "pep meeting" before Creston game. Prof. Thoma explains how the "fates" will win for us.
- Jan. 19—The Thoma theory is only another theory gone wrong as Creston wins, 23-20.
- Jan. 21-25—Everyone is enjoying the exams. The teachers love to correct them and the students simply can't wait to write them. This is the first bad weather we have met on our cruise, but all live through it.
- Jan. 25—South is trimmed, 22-12.
- Jan. 26—Benton Harbor can't hold lead, and loses game to Grand Haven, 22-21.
- Jan. 28—Half of our trip is completed and we find ourselves another half notch higher in high school standings.
- Jan. 31—High School Band presents its Third Annual Band Concert in good form, winning much support from townspeople.

FEBRUARY

- Feb. 5—Mr. Miller arrives late to take pictures but finishes on schedule. Interview card system begun. No more hall roaming from now on.
- Feb. 6—Teachers' Institute.
- Feb. 8—Havenite staff "pesters" us for another semester-subscription.
- Feb. 21—Juniors very cleverly present "Captain AppleJack."
- Feb. 22—Mr. Swart gave a very interesting talk on our "Service to the United States" referring to the service of George Washington, whose birthday we were commemorating.
- Feb. 28—in the Declamation and Oratorical Contest the highest honors were awarded to Marian Kamhout and Walter Fisher, respectively.

MARCH

- March 4—Victorious Republicans present a Hoover inaugural assembly. Miss Bell has a Majestic radio hooked up in her history room so students could hear the inaugural ceremonies.
- March 8—The Hi-Y boys give a play called, "A Case of Suspension." Don't you think Arend and Paul are good looking girls?
- March 11—Rev. Grattan of Muskegon Heights wins the applause of the students by his witty remarks, applying them to the people of today.
- March 13—Senior class meets to pick announcements.
- March 14—Grand Haven defeats Greenville in Regional Basketball Tournament.
- March 16—Grand Haven defeats Grand Rapids Catholic Central to take Regional crown and right to enter State Tournament at Detroit.
- March 20—Everyone in Grand Haven bids team "Goodbye and good luck" as they leave for Detroit.
- March 21—Grand Haven takes down Mt. Pleasant in first game.
- March 22—The Cohrsmen win over their old rivals, St. Joe, to go into the State Finals.
- March 23—Grand Haven's smart fighting basketeers, under the coaching of "Gus" Cohrs, take another Class B Basketball Championship by defeating Stambaugh. Whoopie! State Champs again!
- March 23-April 1—SPRING VACATION

APRIL

- April 1—Rev. Belfman sends regrets that he cannot appear before us in chapel service so Mr. King directs us in singing.
- April 5—Radio Station W G H S presents Chester Conklin and his "Mugwumps" of Nuniea at the Friday assembly. George Vigant is the local anaesthetic—I mean announcer.

April 8—Call for track candidates issued by Coach Cohrs.

April 10—Faculty organize into a fast baseball team. Batteries for today's game: Bosworth and King. Other Big Leaguers such as Sanders, Thoma, Mead, Richards, Cohrs, Arnold will also appear in the lineup.

April 13—Coach Bosworth gives out basketball letters to the Championship team and also to his "Scrubs." Coach Cohrs, Mr. Bosworth explained, couldn't appear for he was home shaving.

April 15—A group of Kalamazoo College students and two instructors give a very clever program. "Kalamazoo College and Why One Should Go to It," was the topic spoken on by one instructor. Two readings were given by the teacher of public speaking, and the students gave musical selections.

April 17—Faculty bows to Seniors in first game of year, 8 to 7. Bosworth blows up in fifth, giving way to Sanders. Peters easily holds the slugging "Murderer's Row" of the faculty.

April 19—Program, in charge of Key Ticklers. It included ukelele and piano selections, readings and exhibitions of various kinds of typing.

April 20—Stewards, stokers, mates and almost everyone but Captain Fisher out today. The good ship is about to complete its last course and many preparations are yet to be made to make the run successful.

April 27—Everybody on deck early to see commercial contestants leave for Muskegon to compete in district contest. This afternoon track team meets Union.

MAY

May 17—Everything running smoothly. The ship is progressing steadily on its way toward the end of its journey.

May 30—The crew, captain and other members take a day's holiday to commemorate the heroic work of our soldiers. We stop at a town by the name of Grand Haven to join in the exercises taking place on terra firma.

"What are you studying, John?" asked Aunt Maria.

"Economics."

"I don't see no use in studying that stuff. "If it's forced on you, you gotta practice it."

AT DETROIT

Ed. H.: "Hey, waiter, hey!"

Waiter: "All right, sir, but we shall have to send out for it."

Ruth: "My dear, Heamon was perfectly priceless last night."

Annabel: "In what way?"

Ruth: "Oh! broke again."

Mart (while walking with Marg.): "Oh, I have found a four leaf clover."

Marg.: "That means we will soon be married."

Mart: "I thought it meant good luck."

He: "Did I hurt your foot when I danced on it?"

She: "I can tell better when the feeling comes back."

Elsie Rice: "Is it true you received 1,500 hats-fresh from Paris?"

Clerk: "Yes, Madam."

Elsie: "Fine! I'll try them all on."

IN THE FUTURE

Maxine Sargent (in George Vigeant's office): "There's a salesman outside with a mustache."

G. V.: "Tell him I've got a mustache."

"What became of Jack, the lazy boy who used to be spending all his time building castles in Spain?"

"He's making a fortune now."

"What's he doing?"

"Designing filling stations."

Teacher: "Give me a sentence using the words be-witches."

Sophomore: "Go ahead—I'll be-witches in a minute."

Alice R.: "I don't like these pictures. They don't do me justice."

Photographer: "Justice? Lady, what you want is mercy."

Mr. Olsen: "Why are you late again, young man?"

Tom R.: "My sister was married this morning."

Mr. Olsen: "Well, see that it doesn't happen again."

Grant Young: "I want to buy a derby."

Clerk: "What size?"

Grant: "It doesn't make any difference. I want to muffle my trombone."

Teacher: "What do they call the instrument the French use for beheading people?"

George W.: "The Gillette, I think."

A CUTTING EDGE

Business training gives a CUTTING EDGE to a High School Education. It will enable you to carve a place for yourself in the Business World, or to earn your way through college.

Dozens of Grand Haven young people have found Howell's School the doorway to opportunity, as Bookkeepers, Junior Accountants, Stenographers, and Private Secretaries.

School is in session all the year. The Summer Classes start June 24th, July 1st, and July 8th. Post graduate courses for high school commercial graduates. Intensive courses for beginners. You will not be held back by a class. Full information free.

This Bank and Grand Haven

As a business institution a bank has two distinct relationships: It is a part of the country's credit machinery, promoting the exchange of goods and money, and contributing to the general reserve strength. And—

It is a local institution to which people turn with confidence for financial services of all kinds—depositing, borrowing, investing, to say nothing of requests for business information and advice.

This bank is strong in both relationships. It has a keen feeling of its responsibilities and endeavors to merit the confidence it has won by faithful performances.

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

The Bank Where You Feel at Home

THE school children of Grand Haven are to be congratulated that they at last possess a beautiful school building. It is to be hoped that Ferry School establishes a precedent from which no school board in the future will ever dare to depart. Every child has a right to beauty as to a divine heritage. If morality is God's sterner voice, beauty is His voice of the morn and of the spring when we dance and shout for sheer joy. And no joyous spirit ever went far wrong.—WILLIAM HEAP & SONS.

PHRESHMAN PHILOSOPHY

The more you study,
The more you learn.
The more you learn,
The more you forget.
The more you forget,
The less you know—
So why study?

Miss Nesbit: "Give me an example of a collective noun."

Art Gildner: "A garbage can."

Have you heard the latest?

The Physics Professor kissed the door and slammed his wife.

Dick: "What has two eyes and cannot see, two ears and cannot hear, four legs but cannot walk, and when he runs he appears afire?"

Eddie: "I dunno."

Dick: "Neither do I."

Teacher: "Can anyone tell me the meaning of the word collision?"

There was no answer.

The teacher explained when two things come together unexpectedly, that is a collision. "Now can anyone give me an example?"

Gerrit Katt: "Sure, twins."

Chet: "Fritz, who was the new girl I saw you with last nite?"

Weiss: "She isn't a new one, she's just the old one painted over."

. Miss Schutt: "James, what was the decree that King Herod issued?"

James V. B.: "That every male boy be killed."

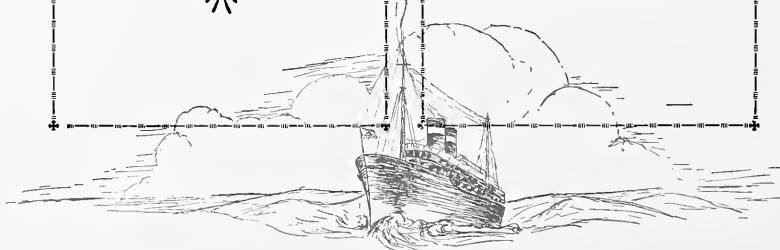

Neighbor Lady: "Bobby! What would your father say if he saw you'd broken that limb?"

Bobby Lowe: "He'd just say trees are not so well made as they were before the war."

Warren Clay: "I imagine it's a new kind of sandwich spread."

No matter how swiftly a goldfish moves he never perspires.

Horseradish makes a very good substitute for grated cocoanut on layer cakes.

Boss (giving directions to office boy being sent on an errand): "On your way you will pass a baseball park."

Boy (hopefully): "Yes?"

Boss: "Well, pass it!"

Social Aims of Grand Haven High School

Grand Haven High School attempts to instruct each of its students to do the following:

- (1) To set the service of God and man as the end of all of his work.
- (2) To love the truth and only the truth, and welcome all truth gladly, whether it brings to him or the world, joy or suffering, pleasure or hardship, ease or toil.
- (3) To meet each task with a willing heart at the moment it is assigned.
- (4) To respect the rights and pleasures of others claiming no privilege for himself except the privilege of service, and allowing himself no joy that does not increase the joy of his fellow man.
- (5) To live his best, holding himself relentlessly to those ideals which he admires most in other men.
- (6) To love his friends more than himself, his school more than his friends, his country more than his school, and God more than all else.

Dumber: "No, I didn't even know he lived there."

Albert: "Next to a beautiful girl
what do you think is the most interesting thing in the world?"

Marvin: "When I am next to a beautiful girl I don't worry about statistics."
